

THATCHER-EUSZ WEDDING--

THREE OTHER MARRIAGES.

The marriage of Miss Odilla Fusz and Thomas Hudson Thaxter took place yesterday morning at nuptial mass at the new Cathedral Chapel. The Reverend Father O'Reilly performed the ceremony.

The wedding was to be a large and fashionable event, as the bride and bridegroom are widely known in society circles of the city, but owing to the recent death of a friend of the bride the reception that followed the ceremony was attended only by relatives and some of the most intimate friends of Mr. and Mrs. Thaxter.

The wedding reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Fusz hereof, at No. 474 McPherson avenue.

The decorations were pink and white. The parlor was decorated entirely in white roses and trimmings of smilax, the music-room was decorated with pink and white roses and the dining-room entirely in pink. Throughout the house were clusters of ferns and palms, and between the doors were portieres of roses.

After the wedding reception Mr. and Mrs. Engel departed for a month's tour through the South. On their return they will go to housekeeping, but as yet they have not decided where they will reside.

The attendants of the bride were Miss Alice Adams, maid of honor, and the Misses Nellie B. Johnson and Marion

The Countess de Penaslo formerly Miss Maria Renee Flusz, who was matron of honor; Miss Violet Thatcher, sister of the bride; and Miss Mary Heydell, the bridesmaids.

The costume worn by the bride was one of the handstomped, bridal gowns seen in St. Louis last year. It was a long, white gown, made with a long court train and trimmed with old duchess lace, heirlooms of the family for a number of years. The bodice and sleeves were trimmed with a wide band of the duchess lace, finished with cascades of bridegroom's brother, was best man. Walter Metcalfe of Chicago and George W. Gunnison, Jr., were the groomsmen.

Miss Mary Heydell, the bride's friend, played the wedding march.

The bride was gowned in white satin, sheath trimmed in accordion pleating and the satin edged in ruchings of gauze. The waist was made with yoke and sleeves of Renaissance lace and the collar and bodice of white velvet panne. The bodice fell well over the place by a coronet of orange blossoms.

the same. She wore tulle veil, which fell over her forehead and was fastened to the er bouquet of roses fringed with lilies of the valley.

The bridesmaids de Penaloza, the matron of honor, wore a gown of pale-blue silk, garnished with old family lace. The skirt was of pale blue, and the bodice was of white lace. The high bodice was also trimmed with lace. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses.

The bridesmaids wore old-fashioned French

Miss Alice Adams, the maid of honor, wore a gown of white silk, with the skirt plain and sleeveless, the skirt trimmed with knife pleatings of net.

The bridesmaids, Misses Noll Johnson and Maude Hammes, were gowned in pink chiffon over pink silk, with touches of white lace on the bodice and sleeveless bodices. The bride's attendant carried bouquets of pink roses.

toilets made of white lace over which were carried shower bouquets of pink roses. They wore white and pink. George Loker was best man and Messrs. Eugene Fuzz and George Desloge were groomsmen and Mr. George Loker was ushers. The home of the bride's mother was decorated for the reception with pink and white roses, ferns and palms. Mrs. Thatcher received numerous congratulations and handsome wedding gifts from her friends and relatives.

After the wedding reception, Mr. and Mrs. Thatcher departed for a brief tour. They will spend most of their honeymoon in the future on Mr. Thatcher's ranch in Mexico.

Miss Lucie Maude Gunnison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Gunnison, was married at 6 o'clock last night to Albert H. Engel. The ceremony was performed at the home, No. 413, 413 Morgan street, by the Reverend H. H. Foxworth, assisted by the Reverend Baxter P. Fullerton.

The ceremony was attended by only a few friends of the two families and their immediate relatives.

Miss Ella McMahon and Joseph Marshall were married at Nuptial Mass yesterday morning, at St. Teresa's Church, by the Reverend A. A. McLaughlin. Miss McMahon, sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid, and William Gavigan best man.

The bride wore a gown of white Paris muslin and the bridesmaid a gown of pink organdie over pink tulle.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall departed for the home after the ceremony. They will be at the home to friends, after February 1 at No. 324 Slattery street.

TUBE CONTRACTORS' RATES TOO HIGH.

Chief Hope of Friends of the System is in a Reduction of the Prices Heretofore Paid.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Washington, Jan. 18.—The Missouri Congressmen are determined that St. Louis shall have pneumatic postal tube service if any city in the country gets an appropriation this year. At present the matter has not been crystallized sufficiently to predict whether the advocates of the tubes can get strength enough to reverse the recommendation of the committee. Six cities are interested in the appropriation—St. Louis, New York, Brooklyn, Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago. There is a general conviction in both the Senate and House that the contractors have charged the Government exorbitant rates for the tubes. If they come

St. Louis Delegation Will Start to Washington Sunday to Appear at Hearing.

Everything is in readiness for the departure of the St. Louis delegation to Washington to appear before the special House committee for the purpose of obtaining immediate action on the tubes submitted by that committee for the one prepared by the World's Fair Legislation Committee here and introduced by Congressman Lane. The party will leave St. Louis Sunday morning via the B. & O. S.-W., arriving at Washington about 12 o'clock Monday.

All the members of the delegation are hopeful that no trouble whatever will be experienced in passing the bill. They have assurances from Washington that both branches of Congress look favorably upon before Congress and show a willingness to bid at any reasonable price it would do so. The friends of the service, if the contractors insist on the rates paid heretofore it is practically sure that no provision will be made either for continuing the service or installing any new plants.

Senator Cockrell has received many petitions from the leading commercial bodies of St. Louis urging provision for the tubes. The matter does not come before the Appropriation Committee until the next session. Cockrell is a member, but goes to the Post Office Committee. Senator Wolcott of Colorado, chairman, Mr. Wolcott was a member of the committee which was set up to investigate against the tube system. The principal hope for getting an appropriation this winter lies in a combination of the Representatives and Senators from Missouri with a lower bid from the patent owners. At present the Government cannot install its own plants, owing to these patent holders.

The friends of St. Louis are violently opposed to the measure and will pass it without delay.

The substitute bill is entirely satisfactory to the local organization, in fact, more satisfactory in many respects than the first draft, which contained several provisions which, it was hoped, would be indicated upon.

D. S. Francis was dubious as to whether he would accompany the delegation, owing to the local organization; in fact, the satisfactory in many respects that the first draft was a telegram from Washington, however, he has decided to go. The following are other members of the delegation: Mr. M. Houser, C. W. Knapp, Nathan Frank, J. H. Kerns, E. O. Stannard, Fred W. Lehmann and R. H. Spencer. H. Spencer, who is at present in New York, is on the party on its arrival in Washington. The delegation will remain at the national capital as long as its presence is required.

Elegant Furniture, Etc., at Auction.
Auctioneer A. A. Selkirk has been instructed to sell at auction the following watching the matter, but, owing to the adverse reports, based largely on extortionate rates of the contractors, and the fact that Detroit, Cleveland and New Orleans were left out in the recommendations of the investigating committees, thus losing co-operation of their Representatives, the matter is in an awkward shape at present.

HARRY T. KOELN DISAPPEARS.

Helena, Ark., Hotel Manager Leaves His Family and Business.

REPUBLICAN SPECIAL.

Helena, Ark., Jan. 18.—Harry T. Koeln, formerly manager of the Koeln Hotel, this city, has left for parts unknown. The business is the property of Koeln's wife, and though it is somewhat involved, all the debts will be paid. A meeting of the city creditors will be held this afternoon at which it was unanimously decided to permit Koeln to pay the debts at her convenience. Koeln has two sons, a son and a daughter, his brother being manager of the Klausman brewery, South St. Louis, Mo. More than a dozen years ago Koeln shot and killed the then husband of his wife, who was a sister of the late Louis Mogler. Mogler was a hunter for Koeln.

Will join the new Manila police, under Project manager, Gen. Louis J. Francis Bell, the original Colonel of the Thirty-sixth Regiment.

The United States transport Indiana will sail for San Francisco with sick soldiers on the return of the hospital ship Relief from Apurri.

NEELY MANDATE DELAYED.

Attorney General Waiting to Hear From Opposing Counsel.

Washington, Jan. 16.—The mandate of the United States Supreme Court in the case of C. F. Neely, which the court on Monday last directed should be issued at once, has not yet been sent out. The delay is due to the desire of the Attorney General to hear further from Neely's counsel. The official copies of the court's opinion have not yet been issued, and it is presumed that the attorney is waiting to read the opinion as a whole before he makes any further effort in his client's behalf in this country.
